

Questions to ask a Homeschool Veteran

This is a list of questions to help you start thinking about what you would want to ask a homeschool veteran if you talked to them. You'll most certainly come up with a lot of your own as well!! If the person you're talking to knows your children, definitely ask specific questions about your individual kiddos that may be helpful for you to know.

- What was your why when you started? Has it changed any through the years?
- What have you learned about organizing your homeschool?
- What have you learned about organizing your homeschool days and weeks?
- Are you involved in a support group or co-op?
- Is it easy to homeschool in our state?
- What are some of your favorite curriculums and resources that you have used through the years?
- How has your family been impacted by homeschooling?
- What do you wish you had known when you started?
- Would you do it all over again if you had the chance?
- How did you homeschool multiple ages?
- Did you cover every subject every day or have a special rhythm for getting it all in?
