

Journey of Grace

A successful marriage requires commitment for a lifetime. Remember you made a vow to God and to your mate.

Love is a choice.

Walk in love, walk as children of light, be filled with the Spirit, and submit yourself to him as unto the Lord. Ephesians 6

Don't forget your first love. Pursue him like you did before he proposed.

Memorize and heed 1 Corinthians 13

Don't let the sun go down on your wrath (anger). Ephesians 4:26-32, Proverbs 15:1

Always forgive...it's always your turn!

Till the weeds in your garden of love. A marriage is give and take but mostly give.

Always be best friends.

Life isn't always sunshine; learn to survive the storms with the Lord's help.

Don't try to change him. You loved him like he was when you married him.

Glorify God together. Romans 15:7 "Therefore receive one another, just as Christ also received us, to the glory of God."

Agree to wait when you disagree. Don't insist on always having your way. You aren't always right!
(You are commanded to submit.)

Don't share the most intimate or the most controversial issues with your mom or your friends.

Never override his decisions with your children. Always have a united front!!

Study the Word like you did for your hardest exam. You need more than a light devotional.

Memorize the Word. Psalm 119:11

Meditate on the Word. Joshua 1:8

Share your faith. When you tell others about Christ, it is one of the most intimate forms of worship.

Learn to pray together every day.

If you stay in the Word and on your knees, the problems become nonissues.

Use the Bible as your guide. Psalm 119:105

Remember:

We are engaged in Spiritual Warfare! Satan wants your marriage, your testimony, and your family, but "Greater is He that is in you than he that is in the world." 1 John 4:4
