What's Your Mission?

Creating the perfect homeschool for your family starts with focusing on the WHY. Use this worksheet as a guide to get you started writing your story. You will probably need additional space to fully explain your why but use this is a starting point. (It's a great exercise to have both mom and dad fill this out and then compare notes as you work together to formulate your family's mission statement.)

1. How did God lead your family to the point of starting to homeschool? (What's your story?

2. What is your mission-- or the big WHY behind what you do?

3. Where are you headed? What is your vision for the next year and beyond?.
